Moments That Matter: The Cronin Family's Story

"The Aroostook House of Comfort is true to its name, a place of genuine comfort, not just for the patients, but for their families as well. Prior to 2024, I was familiar with the Aroostook House of Comfort but had never experienced its care personally.

Then, in 2024, I found myself there twice, saying goodbye to two loved ones during their final days. Through my first experience, I witnessed firsthand the true meaning of comfort and compassion. I knew without a doubt that my sister and I would eventually take our stepmother, Katie, there when the time came. As a caregiver, it is important to talk about the end of life with your loved ones and have a plan, even if it is basic.

For us, it started with Northern Light Home Care & Hospice and then the Aroostook House of Comfort. From the moment we walked through the doors, a weight was lifted from our shoulders. We were met with kindness, warmth, and an unwavering commitment to making sure both Katie and our family were supported every step of the way. As Katie's daughters and caregivers, while also balancing our own young families and full-time jobs, the Aroostook House of Comfort gave us the greatest gift, the ability to simply be daughters. In those final days, we no longer had to worry about the physical and medical aspects of her care because we knew she was in the most compassionate and capable hands. Being at the Aroostook House of Comfort allowed us to focus on what truly mattered—being there for Katie, surrounding her with love, and giving her the support she deserved. The entire staff at the Aroostook House of Comfort was exceptional, treating Katie with unwavering kindness, compassion, and dignity. Always ensuring that she was comfortable and peaceful. They were at their best when we needed them the most, guiding us through our 7-day journey with care and support. We spent precious time at her bedside around the clock, sharing stories and memories. The living room and kitchen areas provided a comforting space for our young families to gather, allowing us to be together in a home-like setting.

I cannot recommend the Aroostook House of Comfort enough to anyone facing the heart-breaking journey of saying goodbye to a loved one. My family is eternally grateful for the Aroostook House of Comfort, and they will always have our support." - Kristen Clark

Volunteer Spotlight: Heidi Thompson

Why did you choose hospice care as a volunteer experience?

In 2017, my 16-year-old son was in a serious car accident. During his recovery, we met so many kind people, including a nurse named Heidi who cared deeply for both him and us as parents. That compassion stayed with me. Once my son regained his independence, I felt called to give back. After visiting the Aroostook House of Comfort, I knew it was the place where I could truly make a difference.

How long have you volunteered at the Aroostook House of Comfort?

This May marks four years—I call it my "side gig." I've worked at The County Federal Credit Union for thirty-four years and usually volunteer on weekends. I'm grateful my employer supports community involvement.

How does your work help?

Whether it's preparing a favorite meal, celebrating a holiday early, or sitting with someone who has no family, I try to be a source of comfort. When my cousin passed in 2024, I felt peace, thanks to all I had learned at AHOC. I want to give that same peace to others.

What makes AHOC special?

It feels like home, not a hospital. Families can rest while their loved one is cared for with compassion. They get to just be present.

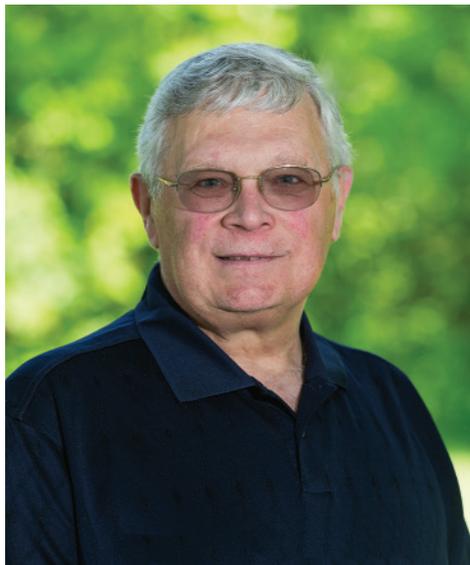

Most rewarding moment?

Fulfilling final wishes means everything. A last meal, a breath of fresh air—these moments matter. When someone hugs me later and says, "I'll never forget you," I know I've made a difference.

Every Name Tells a Story: AHOC Naming Opportunities

The Aroostook House of Comfort is more than just a facility. It is a sanctuary of peace, dignity, and compassion. It is where individuals and their loved ones receive expert, family-centered hospice care in a comforting, home-like setting. As the only inpatient hospice home north of Augusta, it has served more than 1,000 community members since 2018, offering a haven of hope and support during life's most tender moments.

Today, we invite you to become part of this extraordinary mission by participating in the Naming Opportunities Campaign, a meaningful initiative that allows donors to leave a lasting tribute within our hospice home. This campaign is lovingly dedicated to the memory of Michael D. MacPherson, our esteemed board member, vice chairman, and one of the founders of the Aroostook House of Comfort. Michael's leadership and vision helped shape this home from the very beginning, and he spent his final days embraced by the same care and compassion he helped make possible. His dream lives on through each gift made, each family comforted, and every life touched within the Aroostook House of Comfort.

Through the Naming Opportunities Campaign, you have the chance to dedicate one of the remaining spaces within the hospice home in honor of a loved one, a family, a business, or a cause close to your heart. Many areas have already been named, each with a story of love and remembrance. We invite you to help us complete this vision and ensure that every remaining space reflects the generosity and compassion of those who believe in our mission.

From patient suites, where individuals receive expert, comforting care, to the family kitchen and dining room, where shared meals provide connection and healing, every space within the Aroostook House of Comfort plays a vital role. Quiet gardens, cozy sitting areas, and even the essential staff and utility rooms all offer meaningful opportunities to create a personal and lasting impact. These tributes celebrate lives and legacies and help ensure that hospice care remains accessible and deeply personal for years to come.

Each named space symbolizes compassion and a visible reflection of a community that believes in caring for one another. Your support makes a lasting difference for every individual and family who enters our doors during one of life's most tender times.
